

Table of Contents

Foreword Carl Bildt	vii
Introduction	ix
Chapter 1. An Overview of the Substantive Human Rights Regime After Dayton: A Critical Appraisal of the Constitution of Bosnia and Herzegovina Zoran Pajic	1
Chapter 2. The Role and Relationship of Constitutional and Non-Constitutional Domestic Human Rights Enforcement Mechanisms Nedo Milicevic	13
Chapter 3. Implications of the Special Status Accorded in the General Framework Agreement for Peace to the European Convention on Human Rights Nico Mol	27
Chapter 4. International Human Rights Operations in Bosnia and Herzegovina Michael O'Flaherty	71
Chapter 5. Disappearances in Bosnia and Herzegovina Manfred Nowak	107
Chapter 6. Bosnia and Herzegovina and the Right to Return in International Law Maria Stavropoulou	123
Chapter 7. The Impact of International Human Rights Law on the Property Law of Bosnia and Herzegovina Elena Popovic	141

vi Table of Contents

Chapter 8. The Relevance of International Human Rights Law for the Development of Economic, Social, and Cultural Policy in Bosnia and Herzegovina Susanne Malmstrom	157
Chapter 9. Strategies to Combat Discrimination Against Women Christine Chinkin	173
Chapter 10. The Post-Dayton Role of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia Drazen Petrovic	195
Chapter 11. The United Nations Treaty Bodies and Bosnia and Herzegovina Michael O'Flaherty	215
Chapter 12. A Truth Commission for Bosnia and Herzegovina? Anticipating the Debate Gregory Gisvold	241
Afterword Gret Haller	263
Notes on Contributors	267
Appendix: The General Framework Agreement for Peace in Bosnia and Herzegovina and its Annexes	271
Index	309