

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE xiii

ABBREVIATIONS xv

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION 1

 I. The Problem of State Immunity in General.....2

 II. State Acts Constituting Torts under Domestic Law4

 III. The Scope and Objective of this Study7

 IV. Reasons for State Immunity9

 1. Overview.....9

 2. State Immunity and Sovereignty..... 11

 V. History and Development of Sovereign Immunity..... 14

 1. The Origins of the Immunity Concept..... 14

 2. The Absolute Doctrine of Immunity..... 14

 3. The Restrictive Doctrine of Immunity.....17

 a) General Overview.....17

 b) Early Developments of a Torts Exception to Immunity 19

 4. An Attempt to Explain the Shift20

 VI. Immunity from Adjudication and Immunity from Attachment and Execution22

 VII. State Immunity and Related Immunities and Privileges24

 1. Immunity of International Organisations.....24

 2. Diplomatic and Consular Immunity.....26

 3. Immunity of Heads-of-state29

 4. Immunity of States as Occupational Powers32

 VIII. Related Concepts.....33

 1. Jurisdiction.....34

 a) The General Concept of Jurisdiction in International Law34

 b) Immunity and Jurisdiction.....37

TABLE OF CONTENTS

2. The Act-of-State Doctrine	41
a) Scope and Content of the Act-of-State Doctrine	42
b) The Torture Victim Protection Act of 1991	44
3. Immunity and Criminal Jurisdiction	45
4. The Alien Tort Claims Act in the United States	46
CHAPTER 2: THE CURRENT LEGAL SITUATION	51
I. National Statutes on Sovereign Immunity and their Application in Court Practice	51
1. The FSIA of the United States	51
a) General Outline	53
b) Tortious Conduct under the FSIA	58
(1) Torts and the Gestionis/Imperii-Distinction	58
(2) Territorial Nexus and the Relationship Tort-Commercial Activity	60
(a) Frolova v. Union of Soviet Socialist Republics	61
(b) Cases against Iran	62
(c) Nelson v. Saudi Arabia	64
(3) The FSIA and Violations of International Law	68
(a) The FSIA's Expropriation Exception	69
(b) A Genuine Immunity Exception for Human Rights Violations?	74
(aa) Von Dardel v. Union of Soviet Socialist Republics	74
(bb) Hugo Princz v. Federal Republic of Germany	76
c) Evaluation	83
2. The SIA of the United Kingdom	84
a) General Outline	86
b) The Torts Exception	88
c) Human Rights Violations: The Al-Adsani case	93
d) Evaluation	95
3. Australia	96
4. Canada	98
5. Other Countries	100
a) Argentina	100
b) Singapore	102
c) South Africa	102
d) Pakistan	103

TABLE OF CONTENTS

II. Jurisprudence in Countries without Immunity Statutes	103
1. Germany.....	104
a) General Outline	104
b) Immunity and Torts	105
c) Evaluation.....	108
2. France	109
a) General Outline	109
b) Immunity and Torts	110
c) Evaluation.....	111
3. Other Countries.....	111
a) Austria	111
b) Switzerland.....	115
c) Italy	116
d) Spain.....	117
III. The European Convention on State Immunity.....	119
IV. Other Conventions and Treaties.....	121
V. Draft Proposals for Multilateral Conventions.....	125
1. The International Law Commission	125
a) General Outline	126
b) The Torts Exception	127
c) Evaluation.....	128
2. The International Law Association.....	128
a) General Outline of the ILA's 1982 Montreal Draft as Revised in Buenos Aires 1994	129
b) The Torts Exception	130
(1) Art. III F MD.....	131
(2) Art. III G MD.....	132
c) Evaluation.....	133
3. The Basel Draft of the Institut de Droit International	133
a) General Outline	133
b) The Torts Exception	135
c) Evaluation.....	136
4. The Inter-American Draft Convention on Jurisdictional Immunity of States.....	136
a) General Outline	137
b) The Torts Exception	137
c) Evaluation.....	138

TABLE OF CONTENTS

VI. Conclusion	138
CHAPTER 3: DEVELOPING THE CASE AGAINST IMMUNITY	143
I. The Protection of Individuals in International Law	144
1. The Treatment of Aliens	144
2. Fundamental Human Rights as Jus cogens	145
3. The Individual as a Subject of International Law	148
4. Direct Applicability of International Law	148
II. Practical Effects of the Increased Significance of Human Rights and the Individual in other Areas of International Law	150
1. Diplomatic Protection	150
a) Function and Scope	151
b) The Principles of Nationality and Exhaustion of Local Remedies	153
c) Conclusion	158
2. The European Convention on Human Rights	160
a) Introduction	160
b) General Remarks on the Scope and Procedure of the ECHR	160
c) The ECHR and State Immunity	163
(1) Introduction	163
(2) The Relationship Between State Immunity and the ECHR in Theory and Practice	163
(a) Literature	164
(b) Practice	166
(3) Evaluation	170
d) The Relationship between the ECHR and State Immunity: A Proposal	171
(1) Art. 13 ECHR	171
(a) The Interpretation of Art. 13 in General	171
(b) Art. 13 Inherently Limited?	174
(c) The Nationality of the Authority called upon in Art. 13 ECHR	175
(d) Conclusion	177
(2) Art. 6 ECHR	178
(a) The Right of Access to a Court	178
(b) The Meaning of "Civil Rights and Obligations"	182
(c) Fair Trial and Equality of Arms	185
(3) Result	186

TABLE OF CONTENTS

III. Conclusion	188
CHAPTER 4: RECONCILING HUMAN RIGHTS AND STATE IMMUNITY	189
I. Solutions Proposed by Other Authors	189
1. "Implied Waiver" of Immunity for Violations of International Law?	190
2. Restricting Immunity as a "Reprisal"	192
3. "Forfeiture" of Sovereign Rights.....	194
4. Reimann's Proposal in the Wake of the Princz Case.....	194
II. An Attempt to Reevaluate Fundamental Individual Interests and Collective Sovereignty Interests.....	196
1. Again: State Immunity and Sovereignty.....	196
a) Option and Risk Calculability as Criteria to Distinguish Between Immune and Non-Immune Conduct.....	197
b) The Optional Element in the Context of Human Rights Violations.....	199
c) Risk Calculability in the Context of Human Rights Violations ..	201
d) Conclusion.....	203
2. Different Solutions for Different Types of Human Rights Violations?.....	204
a) The Relationship Between the Nature and Quantity of the Human Rights Violations and State Immunity	205
b) Conclusion and Application to Specific Cases	208
c) Possible Solutions for Borderline Cases	211
d) Proposal for a Draft Article on an Exception to Immunity from Adjudication in Cases Involving Violations of Jus Cogens Human Rights.....	214
SUMMARY	217
BIBLIOGRAPHY	225
INDEX	239